3 Indictments Hold 4 For Trial

Stock Brokers, 2 More Named

Incest Charged To Diamond Man; Cow Case Continued

Three indictments holding four persons for trial were issued out of Superior Court Friday evening when a day-long special session of the county grand jury adjourned, to reconvene at the call of the court.

A third matter, involving Albert Bigelow on suspicion of violating section 277 of the Agricultural Code relating to the branding of cattle, was continued for further investigation since witnesses required by the Grand Jury were unable to attend the Friday meeting.

True bills returned named J. A. Rosenberg and Joseph Murphy, San Francisco brokers, on charges of violating Section 18 of the state corporate securities act;

Lowell Hall, 38, of Diamond Springs, on a charge of incest;

Trinidad Rizo, 32, of Placerville, on charges of lewd and lascivious conduct.

The charges against Rosenberg and Murphy grew out of their alleged exchange of Oklahoma oil stock for Trans-America stock with Leo and Kathleen Flynn of Georgetown. Both defendants exercised their constitutional right before the grand jury, according to District Attorney Henry S. Lyon, and refused to testify on the ground that they might incriminate themselves.

The charges against them is that they dealt in stock for which they had no permit to deal in from the state corporation department.

Hall, charged with incest, a crime against a member of his family, likewise refused to testify on the grounds he might incriminate himself.

The grand jury adjourned Friday evening, working until beyond six o'clock to clear up all the work possible at this session without continuing the meeting for another day.

District Attorney Lyon revealed that in the Bigelow investigation, there were discrepancies in the testimony of witnesses who were before the jury to tell what they knew of the cattle transaction.

All of the defendants are answerable directly to the Superior Court where they will, in due time, appear for arraignment.

Whether the Bartletts will be successful in their efforts to ride through the last three weeks of the league schedule on the top of the heap is a question which will begin to be answered this week.

Our heroes journey to Auburn to tackle the third-place club in the league and one which would enjoy nothing more than to toss a money wrench, or even a small stillson, into the middle of the Bartlett ambitions.

Meanwhile "Scoop" Thurman takes his Colfax cohorts to Folsom in the back yard of big, happy, good-natured Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Gallagher and his lads will need to defeat Colfax if they are going to stay close enough to the Barts to make them hustle, providing the Barts can take Auburn.

Lincoln goes to Roseville and the Loomis lads go fishin' and get credit for a win over Wheatland.

COUNTY NATIVE SUCCUMBS

Ed Schulmerich Died June 14th At Oregon Home

Friends are grieved to hear of the death on June 14th at Hillsboro, Oregon, of Edward Schulmerich, a native of the Gold Springs district of this county and descended of a prominent early-day family.

Mr. Schulmerich was born April 13, 1863, at Cold Springs, and as a lad less than ten years old removed to Oregon. Although he spent all of his adult life in Oregon, he and his wife had visited this county on many occasions, their most recent visit here being in April, when Mr. Schulmerich called upon all of his old-time friends.

That Mr. Schulmerich had become a leader in his home community is indicated by the following editorial, which appeared in the Hillsboro Argus three days following his death:

"In the death of Edward Schulmerich, Hillsboro and Washington County have lost one of its most important figures and business and political life. Throughout his nearly 40 years in Hillsboro he was a strong and important factor in the development and progress of the community."

"As a banker, Mr. Schulmerich probably had more to do with business development here than any other individual in the history of the community. His interest in the Ray-Maling cannery was probably his greatest single contribution to the community's economic life."

"Among his greatest services as a lawmaker was his fight to secure the consolidation of the schools of higher education in the state under one board. In so doing he felt that he was a true friend of higher education. Although he had little schooling, through tireless reading and study he became one of the best informed men in this section on economic, political and social affairs."

"A rugged individualist, he was always outspoken, never hesitated to express his opinion on affairs and never straddled the fence."

"To thousands of people who had known him over many years, Hillsboro will hardly seem like the same place without him."

Hospital Contracts Are Awarded

Contract to supply groceries to the county hospital for the month of July has been awarded to Raley's Drive-In Market on a low bid of $116.25, it was announced Saturday by Steward Warren D. Tobey.

The meat contract for the month was awarded to Forni's Market, low bidder; and the quarterly milk contract was awarded to the Pino Vista Dairy.

Amelia Tinkers As Motor Sputters

BANDOENG, Netherlands East Indies (UP)—Amelia Earhart, American woman aviator flying around the world, returned here today from Soerabaya, farther east on Java Island, because of motor trouble. She tried to repair the damage herself, but failed.

Jame Hueston, charged with being drunk and disorderly, was fined $10 Saturday morning before Police Judge Eugene Creed.

County Farmers Organize

Announcement Made Of Affiliation With State Body

Following a recent series of meetings, announcement was made Saturday morning of the formation of an El Dorado County Chapter of the Associated Farmers of California.

This is a state-wide organization of farmers brought into being as the result of disturbances that tended to prevent the harvesting of crops and their movement to market.

The Associated Farmers of California organized in the hope that by organization and a continued campaign of education the threats of communists and other agitators can be met and obliterated; that a condition can be maintained under which men who want to work will be permitted to work; that workers will be protected in their right of employment under terms suitable to them; and that farmers will be protected under the law in the growing of their crops, the harvesting of their crops and their movement along the public highways to market.

The El Dorado County Chapter of the Associated Farmers of California has nine directors who are as follows:

R. A. Patterson, president; Carl Visman, vice-president; A. C. Winkelman, secretary-treasurer; and Willard Wilkinson, H. M. Lumsden, G. D. Threlkel of Cool; Leo Oswald of Somerset; John Forni of El Dorado; and Joseph Madden of Fruit Ridge.

President Patterson left Friday for Los Angeles to attend a state-wide meeting of leaders of the organization and further details as to membership expense and the chapter's participation in the work of the organization throughout the state will be reported to members upon his return.

Any farmers interested in the work of the association may obtain literature from the secretary at his office so that they may be fully informed as to the merits of the organization and will be prepared to act upon the matter when visited by the membership committee.

LARSON AWARDED CERTIFICATES FOR LIFE

County School Superintendent E. J. Fitzgerald announced Saturday morning that the state school department has awarded life certificates to teach in high school or the elementary grades, and a life certificate in elementary or second-grade school administration, to High School Principal Benjamin Edward Larson.

The state office has also posthumously honored Mrs. Louise V. Trimmer, former county teacher, with a general elementary life's certificate. Mrs. Trimmer passed away early this spring.

Son Born To Wife Of Crash Victim

A certificate recorded Saturday with Recorder Charles Marsh, reports the birth on June 19, of a son, William A. Miller, to the widow of James A. Miller.

The babe's father was killed March 7, 1937 in an automobile accident on the Kelsey grade.

176 PHEASANTS PLACED IN COUNTY

"Dutch" Daum and Herb Irwin, of the Mt. Ralston Fish Planting Club, came up Saturday morning from Sacramento with 176 pheasants, obtained from the state game farms at Yountville, and placed them in pens at the R. A. Patterson, John Winkelman and A. Marchini ranches.

The birds have been held for five weeks in the club's pens at Sacramento and will be released in this county upon attaining sufficient age to be able to take care of themselves.

The extent of the Mt. Ralston Club's fish planting activities in this county is indicated when it is known that their contract for horse hire in the Echo summit area for the season amounts to $1,000.

Amounts to $1,000.

World's Greatest Bridge Bears 18,000 Cars Daily

Automobiles and trucks totaling about 18,000 per day are traveling over the new seventy-eight million dollar ($78,000,000) San Francisco Bay Bridge. Heavy traffic has resulted in reducing tolls from 65c to 50c per car. Even at the reduced rates the tolls total slightly over $9,000 each 24 hours. With this in mind, motorists are also becoming interested in gasoline figures involved.

The distance across the Bay from 5th and Harrison in San Francisco to the Oakland residential district is 9-3/10 miles. This means that motor vehicles crossing the Bridge in the course of one day alone travel 167,400 miles.

On a recent test undertaken by A. J. Donnelly, of General Petroleum Corporation, in a Hudson-Terraplane touring sedan using Mobilgas and Mobiloil, the trip was made on 3-1/5 pints of gasoline, an average of 20.6 miles per gallon. This means that these 18,000 cars, provided they make an equally good average, use 7,200 gallons of gasoline daily on the gigantic bridge.

Snapshot on $78,000,000 Bay Bridge—part of matchless highway system of Pacific Coast—shows A. J. Donnelly, General Petroleum official, Hudson-Terraplane car, which made great span on 3-1/5 pints of Mobilgas, and A. H. Knaus, who supervises sales of these cars.

At present retail prices, the 3-1/5 pints of fuel cost 7 cents. Thus, in addition to the toll fee, $1,250 worth of gasoline is consumed daily on the long bay span, by cars and trucks from all points on the Pacific Coast and all states of the Union.

Opening Of Fine New Oil Firm Outlet Tribute To City

With the formal opening now out of the way the new Mobilgas and Mobiloil Service Station and bulk plant located at Main St. and Spanish Ravine now are open to serve motorists of Placerville and vicinity.

The new General Petroleum Corporation outlet is really local in every respect as it was built by local contractor of local materials and will be operated by local men. Chas. Gandy will manage and operate the service station and Bert Pierroz and Jack Scott will operate the wholesale plant. All is under the immediate jurisdiction of Gene Morrison, orchard supply man of Yuba City, who is the General Petroleum wholesale agent throughout this territory.

All of the men operating the service station and plant have had long experience here and are well acquainted and, undoubtedly, will make a serious bid for local automotive trade.

The service station is of the usual General Petroleum Colonial type, very attractive, and finished in the clean, cool white and green colors of General Petroleum, with the Flying Red Horse mounted on top of the building to identify it is a Mobilgas dispensary.

In addition to Placerville motorists this plant will serve the Lake Tahoe region, many new accounts at the lake already having been opened by the General's representatives.

The opening here is just in time for another three-day holiday which lies just ahead.

Because the glorious Fourth falls on Sunday this year, Monday has been declared a legal holiday. And because many thousands will also take Saturday off, vast caravans of motorists will answer the call of the open road during the third, fourth and fifth of July.

"Step in your car and see the world in three days," says Gandy.

"We say 'See the World,' because in our Pacific region one may feast his eyes on scenery that literally duplicates almost all famous areas of the globe. A push of the starter button transforms the family car into a magical flying carpet which transports us, easily within three days, to duplicates of the jagged Alps of Switzerland; broad reaches of the Mississippi; exotic inland seas of Japan; the skiing and tobogganing areas of Germany; shores of the romantic Mediterranean; watering places of picturesque Italy; low rambling hills and ruins of Old Mexico; giant forests of Australia; drab fierceness of the Arctic; massive and awe-inspiring rock formations of India; rolling sand mounds of the Garden of Allah; sheer waterfalls and granite cliffs of Tibet; or most any other world attraction one may choose.

"It has been truly said that the states bordering on the Pacific possess every scenic wonder this globe has to offer. It is the automobile paradise of the world. Yes, we may see it all from our own motor cars. There is no bother with passports or tickets. We suffer no discomforts of seasickness or travel weariness. We roll over unexcelled highways to every type of natural beauty, at the cost of but a few dollars for Mobilgas and Mobiloil.

"Just to make sure that everything is ship-shape for the trip—that there may be no delays, mishaps nor disappointments, it's a wise move to have one's car thoroughly checked, lubricated and inspected before starting.

"As an aid to three-day holiday motorists, these are just a few of the things inspected by managers and assistants in Mobilgas stations: Tires, fan belt, radiator, lights, oil level, air cleaner, wheel bearings, transmission and differential, spark plugs, oil filter, battery. It takes but a few minutes for the Mobilgas man to check these items. The check-up makes for carefree driving, and helps to insure an enjoyable vacation, during which the car performs at its best."

Yes, say officials of General Petroleum Corporation, marketers of Mobilgas, this year's traffic increase is expected to surpass the approximately 36 per cent gain recorded in 1936.

Gandy Opens New Mobilgas Mob

Strange Facts About "Gas"

"Few persons think of crude oil as a source of gum. But gum is among the many substances taken from gasoline in the process of refining," says G. F. Olsen Jr., technical instructor of General Petroleum Corporation. "This black sticky substance is an enemy to motors. It sticks valves and rings and causes heavy deposits of carbon. Hence it's removed from Mobilgas in the refining process.

"How'd you like to have enough Mobilgas to fill the 15-gallon tank of your car 346,666 times—enough to travel around the world 3,220 times at 16 miles to the gallon?" This is another interesting question put by the General representative, who says this is just how much gasoline you would possess if you had a cargo load of the Socony Vacuum tanker, one of the ships used by this major oil company in transporting gasoline to the ports of the Pacific Coast. The tanker has a capacity of 5,200,000 gallons.

Automobile clubs, tourist agencies, motor car dealers and petroleum companies are prepared for enormous business this year, in line with an increase in motoring traffic expected to pass all previous records.

Mobilgas Mobiloil Service Station ❖

Major Oil Firm's Growth Due To Advertising, Service

Sizeable increases in Mobilgas and Mobiloil sales of General Petroleum Corporation . . . sales in which this district has shared . . . have been commented on expansively in recent issues of well-known financial journals.

A. J. DONNELLY

"In fact," says A. J. Donnelly, Northern California general manager of the corporation, "it has been given credit for one of the greatest gains reported by any major marketer during the past two years."

"These things are not said in a bragging spirit, but in the realization that the consistent and regular newspaper advertising, sales and service campaign conducted by our company have been responsible, in large measure, for this advance."

"Products of the company, which conducts large modern refineries at Torrance, Lebec and Vernon, natural gasoline plants, grease plant, lubricating oil blending plant, pipe lines with capacity of 4,200,000 gallons daily, and a fleet of oil carrying tank ships, are marketed through many wholesale bulk plants throughout California, Oregon, Washington, Arizona, and Nevada."

"With the expansion of business, the number of wholesale plants and company retail stations has been gradually increased, to take care of the demand for Mobil products, created through advertising and word-of-mouth recommendations."

"So successful have been the advertising and sales efforts, and so well have our claims of superiority of products been substantiated, that the company has simply outgrown its facilities in many places. Thus, new facilities have been added when business conditions have warranted such moves, as in the case of the present new outlet in this city, the formal opening of which is now being observed."

"Marked upturn in industrial activity throughout the far West has also exerted decided influence toward General Petroleum growth, as it is the aim of the company to keep abreast of the times and thus meet increasing demands. We are particularly conscious of the forward movement in industry because the experts on our staff of engineers are constantly called into consultation to develop lubricants for new and improved machinery, in factories, mills, mines, farms, and automotive and airplane establishments. Demands for such advice are increasing at such rate as to show the wheels of industry are turning faster."

"As a result of such demands, our engineers, affiliated with the engineering staff of the Socony-Vacuum Oil Company, declared to be the largest group of its kind in the world, and working in every country on the globe, are solving problems for the Pacific Coast area incident to the many mechanical and motive changes now being made."

Men Trained In Giving Service

In no other country may one find the gasoline service station developed as it has been in the United States. In no other section of the United States has there been more improvement in service station operation than in the far West.

Enormous proportions of world's largest (200-inch) telescopic mirror are indicated by this picture. The photo, furnished by General Petroleum, shows bottom view, where one sees the waffle-like openings into which the foundation posts will be set.

service, and get it," says Morrison. "The service station manager and attendant have become an integral and important part of each community. They cheerfully and smilingly do many gratuitous things that make it easy for the motorist to go where he wills, in comfort and safety."

"In our organization, schools are conducted to train men in so operating stations that the public will get the kind of service it has a right to expect. We encourage the ambition of thousands of men who are giving their spare time to thus improve themselves and meet the motorist's expectancy for real service and accurate information."

"Speaking of information, not the least feature of these schools is the education obtained as to the virtues and uses of the many products produced by our engineers and chemists. Thus, the men are enabled to render intelligent service in the proper and economical operation of the many makes and designs of cars on the road."

"An important part of our service is known as Mobilubrication. This service, in reality, is the standardization of automobile maintenance. It is a protection to the motorist."

The General Petroleum Company frankly attributes a good share of its remarkable progress to a regular educational program conducted in the advertising columns of newspapers.

Why Change Oil?

"If you drive at 50-mile-an-hour speed, 225 gallons of oil are circulated through the motor per hour. In driving 500 miles, each of the five quarts in the crankcase is used 450 times," says H. W. Taylor, manager of the lubrication department of General Petroleum Corporation.

"Despite the ability of Mobiloil to take punishment and still lubricate perfectly, we recommend that it be replaced with fresh Mobiloil every 1,000 miles. In traveling this distance, upward of 12,000 cubic feet of dust and abrasive-laden air are drawn through the oil."

Products Used All Over World

In 68 out of the 69 countries of the world.

This describes the distribution spread of Mobiloil, one of the leading products dispensed by the General Petroleum outlet formally opened here.

This statement is made on the authority of W. H. Correa, executive of the far-flung Socony-Vacuum Oil Company, with which General Petroleum Corporation is affiliated.

Mr. Correa says statistics prove this oil to be the "largest selling on the globe."

SECOND GRADERS TELL STORY OF MILK

LORAIN, O. (P)—The "Blue Barns Dairy Farm" here has a white-walled barn and farm house of cracker-box construction and an inverted butter-milk container for a windmill. Pipe-cleaner cows graze in a wallpaper pasture of crayon-colored green.

Drawing paper flowers bloom around a clay birdbath. The paper farmer and his limp wife draw invisible water from their paper well. They keep milk cool in a paper "cooler," which is placed in a sanitary position at the back of the green-paper lot.

Not far from "Blue Barns" is Friendly Village, reached by Paper road. Between the two points is a forest of crepe and twigs with bases of clay. The neat little town boasts of all any modern town should—movie houses, factories, stores, churches, etc.—of paper.

The elegant tin automobile seen on its paper streets is owned by the town's one "rich" man. A paper milkman delivers invisible milk to his "bond" customers. His balking horse has difficulty controlling his pipe-cleaner legs. It is "The Story of Milk," a second-grade unit project at Harrison grade school.

ELEVATOR SHOWS DECLINE IN U. S. EXPORT

NEW ORLEANS (P)—Built during a day when this country's farm products found ready markets abroad, New Orleans' public grain elevator today reveals clearly the reverse in foreign trade which the United States has suffered during recent years.

Economic forces altered by a combination of nature and politics changed this $4,000,000 structure, designed to handle an anticipated export movement of at least 16,000,000 bushels annually, into the means of landing Argentine grains from ship to shore.

Three berths for years loaded corn, wheat and oats onto ships for foreign ports. Then they became idle.

Instead, the lone "marine leg," as it sometimes is called, was pressed into use to transfer grains from ship to shore when this country failed to produce enough for domestic use.

SOURDOUGHS TO MEET
TORONTO, Ont. (P)—An international convention and stampede of sourdoughs from the Yukon will be held here for the first time, in August. The meeting is being arranged by the Ontario Yukon Pioneers.
